Desegregation Article by Miss Avah Phillips

AVAH PHILLIPS, a 1956 graduate of Harrisburg Township high school who is attending the University of Illinois, wrote an extemporaneous placement test theme which was considered of such merit by the University of Illinois that it was published.

The theme, titled "Desegregation in the Schools," is contained in The Green Caldron, a magazine of freshman writing at the school. This is the theme:

"Since the Supreme Court decision in 1955, much has been written, said, and done about the integration of the Negro pupil into the white school. Much of the uproar has been political, some has been spiritual, but most has been prejudicial.

"Man is a creature of prejudice. Much of this prejudice is a manifestation of his inborn egotism. His religion is the right one, his color is the superior one, his politics are the soundest. This prejudice is right and good to a certain extent. Man should be proud of his beliefs; he should be proud of his race; he should be proud of his political affiliations. However, when this pride mushrooms into such proportions as to exclude respect for another man of different beliefs, it is no longer righteous pride, but selfish, simple prejudice.

"It is this same prejudice which has created the furor about integration. This prejudice has no place in the modern, democratic United States. In Clinton, Tennessee, and in Mayfield, Texas, Negroes were forcibly excluded from white schools. Is this true democracy? Is this a portrayal of our belief that all men are created equal?

"The Negro has always been in disfavor in all the United States, although particularly so in the South, where the first slaves were brought in the seventeenth century. In touring the South, one may see this disfavor exemplified in the tiny, filthy, dilapidated shacks which many Negroes call home. This disfavor may be seen exemplified in the North by the exclusion of the Negro from certain places.

Muddy Installing Street Lights In Step to Halt Village Decline

Mayor John Molinarolo of Muddy and his son, John Molinarolo Jr., are taking steps to head off the decline of the village.

Right now the village, incorporated only a short time ago, is installing street lights and other improvements appear to be in the offing.

Being erected by Central Illinois Public Service linemen are ten teardrop design street lights suspended from steel arched arms. This is part of a street-lighting program which the village board hopes will grow to 20 or 30 lights eventually.

The Molinarolos, who have seen the village decline through the years as big shaft mines in the area closed down, are looking the problem squarely in the eye from a business standpoint, figuring that before houses can be rented and the former status restored, modern conveniences must be provided for the people.

Over 60 Dwellings

"During the past several years," Mayor Molinarolo stated this week, "nobody has had to be reminded that the population of the village was dropping fast. School enrollment is rapidly approaching a dangerous low. The post office could be in jeopardy due to lack of business.

"Where at one time seven grocery stores did a thriving business, only two are left.

"Things like these serve to point to continued decline of the village."

Mr. Molinarolo and son own about 60 dwellings in the village and this fact by itself is enough to make them concerned about the village's future and to try to bring in conveniences to restore it.

"How do you go about renting a four-room house on a dusty street with no conveniences, no street lights or sidewalks?" he asked. "No matter how low the rent is," he answered, "such property is hard to rent."

Must Obtain City Water
Some steps have been taken to eliminate these detriments. Dusty streets are being soaked with oil. Speed limit signs have been erected and ordinances passed to curb speeding. Now come the street lights.

"The most important part of the improvement program is yet to come and will be by far the most expensive yet the most rewarding," the mayor continued. "City water must be obtained through one of several possibilities. Since the mayor, the village board and apparently all the people agree that this is a definite 'must' we feel that Muddy soon will have its water mains, street lights, hard-surfaced streets, which in turn will make the property here more rentable and in turn boost business, school enrollment, post office receipts and thus make a more secure future for the community."

Find Body of Young Marine Slain Near Flora

Evansville Man
Held for Questioning,
Lie Detector Test

FLORA, Ill. (U.P.) — An Evansville, Ind., man has been arrested for questioning and a lie detector test in connection with the murder of a young Marine whose body was found Wednesday near here.

Clay County Sheriff Harry Sproat at Louisville identified the man as Leon W. Bee of Evansville. He said Bee received a dishonorable discharge from the Marines.

The dead youth has been tentatively identified through clothing stencil marks and U. S. Marine tattoos as Larry M. Kirk, 21, Winslow, Ind.

The body was found Wednesday morning in a weed patch near the Clay-Marion county line about 11 miles west of Flora. The Marine had been shot once in the back at close range with either a .32 or .38 caliber gun, Sproat said. One hundred dollars was found in a watch pocket, but his wallet and dog tags were missing.

The sheriff said Bee, Kirk and another Marine were reported to have left Camp Ellis, a Marine base at San Diego, Calif., together. Kirk was due to report at an ammunition depot at Crane, Ind., on Dec. 24.

Bee was arrested Wednesday night in Evansville by Sproat and Deputy Walter Welsh. The sheriff said Bee has agreed to take a lie detector test.

Meanwhile, authorities are checking the story of an unidentified Centralia man who reported he saw three Marines, one of them fitting the description of the dead youth, and a civilian at a night club near Marissa, Ill., Monday afternoon.

Officials from the Marine Corps and the Illinois State Crime Bureau arrived here to aid in the investigation.

Army to Draft 14,000 in February

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — The Defense Department announced today that 14,000 men will be drafted in February for the Army.

That represents a cut of 3,000 men from draft calls for the preceding four months.

The Defense Department said the lower draft call for February reflects higher enlistments in the active and reserve forces that traditionally take place in January and February.

The February call will bring to 2,166,430 the number of men drafted since the outbreak of the Korean War.

Three Women, Boy At Chester are Bitten by Squirrels

CHESTER, Ill. (U.P.) — Squirrel hunters here are dusting off their guns on the orders of Police Chief Ben Athmer.

Three women and a boy have been attacked and bitten by squirrels suspected of having rabies.

Athmer has declared open season on all squirrels in the city limits with the provision that they be turned over to police after they are shot.

The victims of the attacks live in a residential area near Evergreen cemetery. They say the squirrels jumped on them, then bit them while they were being brushed off.

The heads of two squirrels were sent to the State Public Health Laboratory at Carbondale. Preliminary tests indicate the squirrels were not rabid, but it will be two or three weeks before final results are known, Athmer said.

Meanwhile, the four persons are taking anti-rabies shots.

Ralph York, 17, Formerly of Raleigh, Dies of Injuries

Ralph York, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weston C. York of Joliet, formerly of Raleigh community, died yesterday at 6 p. m. in Joliet as a result of injuries received Friday in an auto accident.

Besides his parents he leaves two brothers, Charles and Terry, a sister, Mrs. Harold Irvin, all of Joliet, and his grandmother, Mrs. Della Cain Williams of Raleigh.

There will be a short service today at 5 p. m. in Joliet at the Fred Dame funeral home after which the remains will be taken to the Martin funeral home in Eldorado to lie in state until Saturday at 2 p. m. at which time the funeral will be held in the First Methodist church at Raleigh. Rev. Roy Hudson will officiate assisted by Rev. Clark C. Yost, and burial will be in the Masonic cemetery at Raleigh.

Mrs. Martha Murray Stinson, wife of late resident of Saline county who observed her 90th birthday July 4, died at 7:15 a. m. today at her home, 2045 North State street in Eldorado.

She was born in Saline county and spent most of her life in Eldorado. She was the widow of W. E. Stinson who passed away in July of 1946.

Surviving are five sons: Eddie of Harrisburg, Oscar, Leslie, Murray and James, with whom she resided, all of Eldorado; two daughters, Mrs. Maude Jackson and Mrs. Fannie Murphy, also of Eldorado; 19 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren. Mrs. John R. Small of Harrisburg is a granddaughter.

A daughter, Mary, preceded her in death.

The body was taken to the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado and funeral plans are incomplete.

Woman Who 'Died' and Was Revived by Rare Operation, Walks Out of Hospital

NEW YORK (U.P.) — A 55-year-old woman Wednesday walked out of a hospital where she had "died" and then was brought back to life by one of the rarest operations in medical annals.

The story of how Mrs. Ingalls was revived by two young physicians after her heart had stopped beating was disclosed by Dr. Elliott Hurwitt, chief of the surgical division at Montefiore Hospital.

A heart patient, Mrs. Ingalls was undergoing a blood test by an interne, Dr. Stephen Lobell, Dec. 10 when Hurwitt related, she collapsed in her bed.

"She gasped suddenly, collapsed and became rigid," Hurwitt quoted Lobell. He said the 26-year-old interne could find no heartbeat or other sign of life.

A moment later, Dr. Aaron Schwartz, 28, resident interne, entered the room. While Lobell breathed into Mrs. Ingalls' mouth, Schwartz made an incision in her chest, aware that he had only three minutes in which to introduce stimulation before possible injury to the brain.

For 20 minutes, Lobell continued breathing into Mrs. Ingalls' mouth, while Schwartz squeezed her heart to fill it with blood. Finally, Mrs. Ingalls' heart resumed its normal rhythmic beat.

To his knowledge, Hurwitt said, the operation was the first of its kind to be performed successfully outside of an operating room.

Experts Predict 490 New Year Traffic Deaths

By United Press

With the shock of the worst holiday traffic toll in history still fresh in the nation's mind, safety experts predicted another 490 Americans will be killed needlessly during the New Year's week end.

The National Safety Council said it is counting on the "shock factors" of the all-time record Christmas holiday traffic slaughter to help hold down the toll this week end.

The 490 figure is only 70 more than the normal rate of 420 deaths for a four-day period in traffic crashes during the four-day Christmas holiday, smashing the previous all-time record of 609 set during last year's three-day Christmas holiday. The toll also was well above the Safety Council's advance estimate of 660 fatalities.

Death Takes W. A. Cooker

William A. Cooker, 74, retired miner residing at 25 West Sloan street, died Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the Lightner hospital.

He last worked at Peabody 47 mine.

He leaves his wife, Elva, and two stepchildren: Mrs. Charlene Purcell, Middleton, O., and Frank Ripperdam of Eldorado.

The body lies in state at the Gibbons funeral chapel where services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. Rev. Carl Downey will officiate and burial will be in Adkins cemetery in Gallatin county. The family requests that flowers please be omitted.

Three Southern Cities Hit by Racial Disputes

Bus Fired Upon in Montgomery; Arrest
21 in Birmingham

By United Press

Determined attempts by Negroes to desegregate buses in three southern cities today brought gunfire and arrests.

In Tallahassee, Fla., an unusual twist to the Dixie race issue found the local bus company on the side of the Negroes. Nine drivers and a company manager were arrested there for failing to enforce segregation rules.

In Montgomery, Ala., two buses were fired on but there were no injuries.

In Birmingham, Ala., Negroes voted to hit the industrial metropolis with a mass integration attempt but later toned down the threat with a suggestion that each Negro "use his own conscience" about where to ride.

In Mobile, Ala., where the bus firm voluntarily announced a desegregation policy—later countermanded by the City Commission—a morning check showed no attempt by Negroes to ride on front seats.

Nine 22 caliber slugs riddled one bus in Montgomery and shot-gun fire smashed a rear window in another Wednesday night, causing occupants to "hit the floor."

They escaped injury. The gunfire failed to halt Negro integration efforts. They were sitting where they pleased again today without further incident.

Suspend Bus Franchise

As the situation grew tense in Birmingham, Alabama Public Service Commission President Jack Owen warned that the transit service there might be forced out of business if its "narrow margin of profit" is cut by integration moves. The state guarantees public utilities a fair return investment and Owen said the commission could not prevent the utility from dropping its franchise.

Twenty-one Birmingham Negroes were under arrest for violating segregation laws.

One of the big issues in Birmingham was the "dividing board" system on buses—a portable barrier that is moved at the will of the driver. That's what touched off the Montgomery boycott that lasted a year.

Negro Monroe Flenor Jr., 17, on leave from Ardmore, Okla., Air Force Base, was arrested and jailed in lieu of a $50 bond for moving one of the boards in defiance of the driver's orders to leave it alone.

There was a possibility the bus integration fever may spread soon to another state. E. A. Selby, only Negro on the Nashville, Tenn., Transit Authority, said today some action may be taken about desegregating buses there early in 1957.

Leaves Billfold in Stolen Truck, Faces Theft Charges

Kenneth Roberts of Eldorado left his billfold in a stolen truck and is now in the Gallatin county jail facing auto theft charges.

State Policemen Roy A. Lane and Art Athmer received a report during the holidays that a pickup truck belonging to Charles Mobley of New Haven had been stolen at Shawneetown. Later they found the truck abandoned on Route 45 between Harrisburg and Eldorado and inside the cab they found a billfold that carried the identification card of Kenneth Roberts of Eldorado.

Questioned by officers, Roberts admitted the theft and was taken to Shawneetown.

Lewis-Grevel Marriage Solemnized in California

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Weston Grevel

First Baptist Deborah Class Has Christmas Party

Mrs. Robert Mugge was hostess to the members of the Deborah class of the First Baptist church, at a Christmas party at her home at 119 West College street. The beautifully lighted Christmas tree and holiday decorations added much to the festivities of the occasion. Refreshments of late roll topped with whipped cream and coffee were served to the guests upon arrival, and candid pictures were taken throughout the evening.

Mrs. Otho Josey gave as a fitting devotion the story of "The Wise and Unwise Men." A Bible quiz was conducted by Mrs. Mugge, after which there was a gift exchange, and the teacher, Mrs. Bob Burnett, and associate teacher, Mrs. Dale Wilson, were presented with gifts from the class, and they presented gifts to the class members. It was an especially happy occasion for the class members to have with them their teacher, Mrs. Burnett, who has been unable to teach the class for several months on account of illness.

Mrs. Office Burden and Wm. B. Brockett Married

Announcement was made today of the wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 12, at Corinth, Miss., of William B. Brockett, Fairfield, and Mrs. Office Burden, Harrisburg. They are at home at 822 South Ledford street, Harrisburg.

Mr. Brockett is a heating engineer with business connections in St. Louis and Fairfield, and Mrs. Brockett is claims representative in the District Social Security office in this city. She was formerly employed in the offices of the Shawnee National Forest, and will continue in her present employment.

She expressed her appreciation to the class and also to Mrs. Wilson who has been so faithful as the associate teacher.

Others in attendance were: Mesdames Marion Lane, Bob Capel, Marion Froman, Carl Cooley, Jewel Calvert, Harvey DeVar, Dwight Karnes, George Johnson, Halse Moore, Karl Wallace, Ed Creek, Beal May, W. A. Hamby and Mrs. Mary Slow.

The beautifully decorated altar of the Congregational Church of Chimes, Van Nuys, Calif., was the scene for the wedding of Miss Golda Alice Lewis, La Crescenta, Calif., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Lewis of 5 West South street, and Burt Weston Grevel, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Burt Grevel, Hollywood, Calif.

Dr. Walter Staves performed the single ring candlelight ceremony at eight o'clock on the evening of Dec. 1.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her former employer, Dr. Wyman O. Burns of Santa Barbara, Calif., wore a lovely blue chantilly lace redingote over portieris fashioned with a high neckline and long pointed sleeves. The skirt was ballerina length. A blue lace tiara held securely a short wedding veil. She carried two white orchids against a background of white chrysanthemums with white and yellow ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Jeanne Adams was matron of honor wearing a champagne-colored silk organza with white trim. She carried yellow baby mums in a star-shaped bouquet with yellow and white streamers.

Serving as best man was Kenneth W. Grevel, Palmdale, Calif., brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Richard England, brother-in-law of the groom, Pacoima, Calif., and Mike Day, North Hollywood, Calif.

Soloist was Neal Snyder, friend of the bridegroom, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Millie Andrews, also a friend of the bridegroom.

A reception followed at Hamilton House where the bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a yellow and white miniature bride and groom. The tiny bride's dress was a replica of Miss Lewis' gown. Mrs. Jane Hedges served as hostess.

Mrs. Grevel chose for her son's wedding a beige suit with matching accessories. The bride's mother was unable to be present.

The bride attended the Harrisburg Township high school and Southern Illinois University and is affiliated with Xi Beta Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. She was secretary of the fourth district Dental Assistants association, Glendale, Calif., and was formerly employed as dental assistant and office manager for Doctors C. Deane Funk and Douglas C. Semmens, resigning only recently after having the position for four years.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Hollywood high school and Woodbury College in Los Angeles. He spent 19 months in Heidelberg, Germany, and is a member of the Hollywood American Legion. He holds the position as president of Frontier Building Supply in North Hollywood, Calif.

State Policeman Guthrie Alexander, who with Officer Michael Taggart investigated the crash, said Gerald Edwards of Scott Air Force base, driving a new Christmas present with about 700 miles on it, hit the rear of a car driven by Lloyd Evans of Metamora, Ill., at the Routes 1-13 intersections in Gallatin county.

Alexander also reported that he and Officer Art Athmer investigated another collision in which a Scott Air Force base driver struck the rear of another automobile on Route 13 on Christmas Eve. Eugene Pinkston of the base hit the rear of an auto driven by Emadean Leverett of Equality Route 1 on Route 13 at the Cottage township road.

Mrs. Jesse Colbert
Correspondent

The Ladies' Aid met Wednesday for a Christmas party and after a bountiful dinner, quilting was adjourned for an exchange of gifts. Those present at the noon hour were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vinyard, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Fugate, J. L. Milligan, Mrs. Janice Thacker, Mrs. Jewell Brinkley, Mrs. Ethel Gowan, Mrs. Juanita Potter, Mrs. Laura Fuhr, Mrs. Irene Brooks, Mrs. Virgie Baldwin, Mrs. Geneva Lackey and son, Clarkie, and Mrs. Naomi Gowan and daughters, Pam and Paula. In the afternoon Mrs. Millie Benham and Mrs. Mary Gibson were visitors.

Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Potter celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Dec. 8, with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vinyard and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bentley as dinner guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Casey visited Saturday night and Sunday with their son and daughter in law, Rev. and Mrs. Darnell Casey of Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Rube Fuhr and son, Butch, and Mrs. Laura Fuhr spent last weekend visiting relatives in Alton.

Joe Lackey is spending a two weeks vacation at Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Colbert called on Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Casey Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thacker visited Tuesday evening with Mrs. Geneva Lackey.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bentley and Mr. and Mrs. George Gibson were dinner guests last Sunday of Mrs. Millie Benham.

The proposed home economics building group would include laboratories for research and demonstrations in foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, home furnishings, family living, and dining room and kitchens for teaching dietetics and institutional management. Cost of the building group is estimated at $2,500,000.

PE Building

The $3,000,000 physical education and military training building the University seeks would be used for indoor drilling of 1600 Air Force ROTC cadets, men's physical education classes, intramural athletics, intercollegiate sports, and for meeting of large area-wide groups who look to the University for facilities. The present gymnasium, built for a student body one-sixth the size of the present one, would be turned over to the women's physical education program.

Teacher training, still about the most important job the University is doing in southern Illinois, has been severely handicapped because education classes are scattered among many buildings on the campus and classes are conducted in poorly lighted and inadequately heated temporary buildings. Facilities for conferences, workshops, demonstrations, special education, remedial reading, and education experimentation are dispersed over the campus or they are not available.

A $2,450,000 College of Education Building, situated next to the University School where elementary and high school students receive their instruction, would permit closer relation of theory to practice. The new structure would offer classroom space for teaching methods, curriculum improvement, school administration and supervision, guidance, special education, school and finance, and many other specializations.

Some motorists simply cannot develop the knack for parking easily. Apparently, they are plagued with a bloc which prevents them from parking without undue strain.

There are three steps to easy parallel parking. The first is to pull alongside of the car in front of the space where you intend to park your vehicle and then turn the steering wheel to the right.

Next, back up until the front wheels of your car are about even with the other car's rear wheels and then turn your vehicle's front wheels sharply to the left, bringing the car into the parking space.

The third and last step is to turn the front wheels sharp to the right and to go forward. Courtesy demands that we do not crowd the cars to the front or rear.

On the subject of parking, when you leave a parallel parking space to enter traffic remember to give

SIU Building Program at Least Eight Years Behind Schedule, Morris Says

(This is the second of a series of three articles explaining Southern Illinois University's request for increased appropriations in 1957-58 for buildings and other campus improvements.)

Southern Illinois University's building program is at least eight years behind schedule, said University President D. W. Morris in asking the board of trustees to approve a $39,319,000 budget request for capital improvements in 1957-58.

"We are now in fairly good shape to handle enrollment of eight years ago," Morris reported. "But in the past four years alone enrollment has more than doubled."

On Nov. 15, the board of trustees authorized the University to seek from the General Assembly $29,150,000 for new buildings and $10,165,000 for other capital improvements during the next two years.

Need Home Ec Facilities

The new buildings would include facilities for home economics, physical education and military training. College of Education, industrial education and technology, School of Business, geography and geology, an administration and service building, and a health unit. The budget also calls for completing the second stage of a Life Science Building started in 1953, and the first stage of a building to house the School of Communications.

Citing the need for better home economics facilities, President Morris said that some area high schools are better equipped than Southern in this department. Total class enrollments have increased 126 percent since 1946, and only the lack of staff and classroom and laboratory space have kept the rate of growth from being higher.

"In its efforts to encourage the people of southern Illinois to raise their standards of living, the home economics staff needs to demonstrate good living practices through attractive, up-to-date and well-planned laboratories," the University trustees were told at their last meeting.

The proposed home economics building group would include laboratories for research and demonstrations in foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, home furnishings, family living, and dining room and kitchens for teaching dietetics and institutional management. Cost of the building group is estimated at $2,500,000.

Hoover Praises High Quality Of Refugees

Says They are Material from Which Nation Built

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today Hungarian refugees arriving here are "the very material out of which this country was built."

The former president said at a news conference with Vice President Richard M. Nixon that "as long as refugees are of the quality that these are, they can filter into the United States without any danger whatever."

The former president and the vice president conferred for half an hour today in Mr. Hoover's Waldorf Towers apartment, Nixon, who just returned from a tour of refugee camps in Austria, sought the advice of Mr. Hoover before going to Camp Kilmer, N. J., to see how the refugees are being handled there.

Nixon said Mr. Hoover was "helpful." He said the former president is the "greatest expert in the world today on the problem of refugees."

Mr. Hoover said the refugee program was being carried out "in a wonderful way," and praised the U. S. government for a "magnificent job." He said Mr. Eisenhower's wisdom in sending Nixon to Hungary for an on-the-spot inspection of refugee camps had "added to the excellence of the job being done" and advanced the solution of the problem.

Mr. Hoover said the "load" of caring for the refugees should not always rest on the United States. He said other governments "must take their share of the load," and he said he was happy to learn that they were doing so.

Preston Tucker, Who Envisioned Auto Empire With 'Tucker Torpedo', Dies

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP)—Preston Thomas Tucker, a young man with visions of an auto empire in 1946 but a financial ruin by 1950, died Wednesday of cancer at the age of 53.

Existing auto firms hadn't dusted off peacetime machinery in 1945-46 when the handsome Tucker, a "mystery man," unveiled sketches of the revolutionary tear-drop "Tucker Torpedo."

The public—investors, would-be dealers and buyers—was to invest 28 million dollars in these sketches and some 60 handbuilt and partly finished models before Tucker's final exit in 1950.

Tucker announced engineering features which auto firms had on-

Jeanne Crain Denies Plans to Wed Millionaire

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jeanne Crain denied Wednesday night that she has any plans to marry millionaire Homer Rhoads who claimed he was assaulted by the actress' former husband, Paul Brinkman.

Rhoads, 45, told police he was socked by Brinkman, 37, Christmas night because he planned to marry Miss Crain as soon as his wife divorces him. However, Miss Crain after remaining silent on the subject for some time released a statement which read:

"Mr. Rhoads is a gentleman I met through my husband during our marriage. I have no romantic interests in Mr. Rhoads or in any one else."

Kidnaped British Officer is Slain

LONDON (AP)—The kidnap-murder of a 21-year-old British lieutenant in Port Said touched off an uproar throughout Britain today. There were reports the government would demand a full-scale investigation by the United Nations.

The lieutenant, Anthony Moorhouse, was kidnaped Dec. 11 while making a lone reconnaissance in Port Said. His death was announced officially Wednesday night and one British paper carried an eight-column streamer today: "Britain Mourns A Son."

Four Reappointed To State Library Advisory Committee

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Four members of the Illinois State Library Committee were reappointed by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter Wednesday to six year terms.

Reappointed were William C. Stephens, Centralia attorney; Russell D. Rendleman, Jonesboro, Union County school superintendent; Miss Etta Brandt, librarian of the Carmi Public Library; and Miss Louise Anthony, librarian of the Alton Public School System.

Gove is Appointed Executive Assistant By State Auditor-Elect

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Samuel K. Gove, 33, a research assistant professor at the University of Illinois' institute of public affairs, Wednesday was appointed executive administrative assistant by State Auditor-elect Elbert S. Smith.

Gove will succeed William L. Day, Springfield, who is resigning from the auditor's office to take a post with the Federal Census Bureau.

Snowstorm Hits East States

By United Press

A fast-moving snowstorm swept out of southern Canada, dumped up to 10 inches of snow on the eastern Great Lakes area and pushed eastward toward New England today.

The storm apparently hit the Buffalo area hardest. It dumped eight inches of heavy, wet snow on the Lake Erie metropolis Wednesday night and two more inches early today.

The unscheduled snowstorm snarled automobile and bus traffic for hours and forced cancellation of night flights from the Municipal Airport.

Meanwhile, Chinook winds brought balmy weather to the eastern slopes of the northern Rockies. It was warmer over most of Montana than in Florida where the mercury dipped to a frosty 25 at Cross City and slid to the low 40s at Miami.

Heavy snow was pushing southward from the Buffalo area today and weathermen predicted three to seven inches of additional snow in New York state's southern tier of counties.

A mixture of snow and rain was falling in southern West Virginia, but forecasters said snow was not expected to accumulate over southern portions of the mid-Atlantic states.

Flames Spread Over Movie Colony; 50 Homes Destroyed; One Man Dead

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—Flames whipped by strong winds spread today over this movie colony resort area where one man has died, 50 homes have been destroyed and 20,000 acres have been blackened in a fast moving brush fire.

Fire fighters doubted the blaze could be brought under control for three or four days.

Hundreds were forced to leave their homes. Two firemen and 20 others have been burned.

Canyon Evacuated

Fire Chief Keith Klinger of Los Angeles County massed most of his 1,000 firefighters during the night in the Laticio Canyon area where some 50 homes were in the path of the leaping flames. The canyon was evacuated Wednesday.

Five bulldozers started cutting a firebreak Wednesday night from Malibu Lake to the coast in an attempt to cut off the fire endangering this movie colony located less than 25 miles from Hollywood.

The fire, second worst in the history of Los Angeles County, was burning over an 18-mile perimeter. On the eastern flank near famed U. S. Highway 101, which runs along the coast, the blaze had turned Escondido Canyon into a raging inferno.

Nearly 200 Homeless

Nearly 200 persons have been left homeless and the Red Cross set up emergency stations to feed and house those persons who lost homes. More than 1,000 persons were evacuated from their homes Wednesday but many were able to return as flames swept away from the houses and turned inland.

A preliminary estimate fixed property damage so far at $2 million. Many fashionable homes were among those leveled by flames. The $75,000 home of television star Ralph Edwards was destroyed Wednesday along with the $20,000 home of Hugo Freed, brother and business manager of movie producer Arthur Freed.

Johnson Rites At Eldorado Friday

Funeral services for Frank Johnson, former Saline county resident who died Tuesday in the Good Samaritan hospital in Cape Girardeau, will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the Eldorado funeral home. Rev. Eddie Hatfield of the First Baptist church in Eldorado will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Johnson, a railroader, was struck by a vehicle on the highway near McClure Tuesday and died shortly after.

Luck Still Holds Good for Medal Of Honor Winner

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Congressional Medal of Honor winner Charles E. (Commando) Kelly was convinced today that the luck of the Irish has not deserted him.

Kelly, recently ill and nearly destitute, plans to move his wife and family of six from a housing project here to a 14-room $25,000 home at St. Louis next month.

The Kelly family has been living in a $23 a month housing project here. Kelly, who killed 40 enemy soldiers in the Italian campaign of World War II, became seriously ill last August when peritonitis developed after an appendectomy.

His wife was in the hospital at the same time having their sixth child. Medical bills and normal expenses of keeping a large family clothed and fed had depleted the family's resources.

Nationwide publicity of the World War II hero's plight brought him a job as a buyer for a St. Louis scrap iron firm. Kelly said his employer in St. Louis is helping with the down payment on the eight-bedroom home. "In fact, he's footing most of the bill," Kelly added.

Gov't Refuses

To Grant Steel

Tax Incentives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's refusal to grant further tax benefits for expansion of steel production adds to the expectation of another round of steel price increases, an industry source said today.

He said it also may result in postponement or cancellation of part of a $2.3 billion expansion program planned by the industry.

The industry had asked for the tax incentives to help finance increased production of various types of scarce steel—particularly steel for highway and school construction, oil tanker construction and petroleum equipment, and railroad cars.

The government Wednesday refused to grant the incentives.

It also decided against allocating steel for construction of oil tank-ers, the shortage of which has been emphasized by the cut-off of Mideast oil flowing through the pipelines.

Suez Canal and Mediterranean

IEA Opens Annual Meeting; to Ask More School Aid

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Education Assn. opened its 103rd annual meeting today and began working out its 1957 program.

Delegates to the three-day conference were expected to call for a sizeable increase in state spending for schools.

The IEA's committee on legislation recommended that the state boost its appropriations to guarantee "a more adequate and realistic foundation program than now exists." It did not spell this out.

This report also urged that the state provide "adequate" financial aid for the school lunch program, pupil transportation, vocational education, and public junior colleges.

Jai-alai, a game demanding much speed and stamina, generally is considered the world's most punishing sport.

Hungary Drafts Farmers for Coal Mine Work

VIENNA (AP)—Hungary began drafting peasant farmers into the coal mines today in a desperate attempt to get production going and stave off a "national disaster," Radio Budapest reported.

It said some peasants already had started work in the mines of Pecs, near the Yugoslav border.

Some of the heaviest fighting of the Hungarian uprising occurred in the Pecs region and partisans were still fighting Russian troops as recently as two weeks ago in the area.

The coal shortage and the resultant lack of power has closed down virtually all of Hungary's industry. The government warned that as a result up to 200,000 workers would lose jobs "permanently" in the new year.

Allowed Christmas Respite

The warning was sounded while Hungarians faced up to the grim realities of life under the Soviet-imposed Janos Kadar regime after a three-day Christmas holiday respite. Hungarians were permitted to celebrate Christmas in the old way for the first time since the Communist seized power in 1948. The puppet regime was believed to have encouraged the festival in an attempt to divert attention from the nation's economic plight.

The government's action in forcing farmers into the mines indicated it has had little success in its door-to-door appeal for "volunteers" from the idle factories.

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce Tours Rome Last Time as Diplomat; To Return Home

ROME (AP)—The Luce era ended today in Italy.

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, the ambassador who stunned a whole nation just because she was a lady, wound up her affairs here after a spectacularly successful diplomatic career many persons had predicted would be an equally spectacular flop.

The Italians who viewed her with alarm four years ago bade her a warm farewell as she toured Rome for the last time as a diplomat.

Mrs. Luce spoke her personal goodbye Wednesday night to the eternal city she has called her home and office for more than three years.

Standing before the sparkling green pool of the Trevi fountain she twice called out "arrivederci, Roma" (goodbye Rome) as she lightly tossed an American half dollar into the fountain—a gesture that for two centuries mean the thrower will return safely from his journey in foreign lands.

The ambassador and her husband, Henry P. Luce of Time, Inc., were leaving today by plane for New York. Mrs. Luce will go to Washington for what the State Department calls a "debriefing" and to meet her new replacement, James D. Zellerbach, a Western industrialist.

Earlier Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Luce attended the gala initial performance of the Rome opera season, Mascagni's "Iris," but did not wait for the second act intermezzo.

With her departure today Mrs. Luce brings to an end a 3½-year tour of duty as the first American woman ambassador to a major world capital.

Edwardsville Beats Bull Dogs, 65-44

Locals in Consolation Round, Will Meet Murphysboro Tomorrow

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, dumped by Edwardsville last night in the opening game of the Egyptian Holiday tournament at West Frankfort, entered the consolation round as a result of the defeat and will meet Murphysboro at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Edwardsville, by virtue of some red-hot long shooting the first half, beat the locals, 65 to 44, as the Bull Dogs continued to be cold from the field. Their free throw shooting wasn't up to par, either.

Murphysboro was beaten, 66 to 55, by Mt. Vernon and thus entered the consolation round. Tonight's losers will form the other teams in this round of the consolation bracket.

dale facing Gene Hall's Sterling quintet at 7:30 and West Frankfort meeting Du Quoin at 9:00. These winners will join last night's winners in the championship bracket games tomorrow night.

Consolation round winners will meet for the consolation title at 6:45 p. m. Saturday, followed by the battle for third place and the championship game.

Harrisburg was colder than the weather outside and Edwardsville was hotter than Port Said during the first quarter when the Tigers, hitting from everywhere, ran up a 21-6 lead. Harrisburg regained its composure somewhat as the game progressed as the Bull Dogs were outscored but 12 to 10 the second period and outscored the Tigers, 16 to 14 during the third.

The Bull Dogs made 18, missed 16 free throws during the game. Hassett Scores 14 Points

Ray Hassett, 'Bull Dog guard who tied with the veteran Shaw of Edwardsville for top scoring honors—14—was injured during the first minute of the last period and had to be taken from the game, Ray, going after a rebound got a finger stuck in his eye and suffered considerable pain.

Coach John Dotson of Harrisburg took a couple of sophomores with him to Frankfort and one of them, Ron Maynard, played quite a bit. The other was Bob Pavlenko.

In Murphysboro Harrisburg will be meeting a big team without too much finesse but with a lot of ruggedness.

Miami, With 5-2 Record, Faces SIU Here Friday

OXFORD, O. — Miami University will conclude the 1956 portion of the current basketball season Friday night when it invades Harrisburg, Ill., to play Southern Illinois University in an intersectional contest.

Miami, with a 5-2 record for the season will meet an experienced, but short (as basketball teams go) squad which plays a fast game with emphasis on offense.

Southern Illinois coach Lynn Holder, who's been with the Salukis for 10 years, has six lettermen back with the tallest being 6-5 Larry Whitlock of Mount Vernon, Ill. The squad averages 62.0 on the season SIU has won four and lost three.

The Redskins, jolted by Fordham 67-60 in the first round of the Cincinnati Invitational Tournament last week, have vowed to stay on the winning track for the rest of the season to compensate for the loss.

Guard and co-captain John Powell went without a field goal against Fordham after averaging 21.5 points a game, said his one bad night is behind him and he doesn't expect to have any more. He came back the second night of the tourney to lead his team against George Washington by scoring nine field goals.

The Redskins interrupted their holiday to report for a practice session today. They left for Harrisburg today.

North Defeats South, 17-7, in Shrine Classic

MIAMI, Fla. — Jumping Tommy McDonald showed 39,181 fans in the Orange Bowl Wednesday night why he is an All-America as he led the North to a 17-7 victory over the South in the annual Shrine college all-star football classic.

McDonald set up one touchdown with a pass and led the Yankees on an 86-yard drive in the closing minutes of the game which was turned into a 13-yard field goal by Michigan quarterback Jim Maddock.

Sports writers chose McDonald as the North team's most valuable player. A similar award for Dixie honors went to Wake Forest fullback Bill Barnes.

Michigan's Mike Rotunno grabbed a fumble on the South 25 to set up the first score in the second period. Michigan State halfback Dennis (The Menace) Mendyk ran to the 19 from where Purdue quarterback Len Dawson hit Michigan State end Jim Hinesly in the end zone. Dawson made the first of his two conversions.

The North scored again moments later when Wisconsin end Dave Howard covered a bobbly Barnes.

Trapped on a reverse at mid-field, McDonald leaped and threw to Mendyk on a play that covered 37 yards. From there, Oklahoma's Jimmy Harris tossed to Indiana end Bob Fee for the touchdown.

The South averted a shutout in the third period, going 22 yards in seven plays after Florida halfback Jackie Simpson intercepted a pass by Dawson. Duke's Sonny Jurgensen flipped a fourth down, four-yard pass to Mississippi halfback Ed Crawford for the score. Mississippi fullback Paige Cothren converted.

Aussies Retain The Davis Cup

ADELAIDE, Australia — Mighty Aussies Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall started poorly and then crushed America's age-and-youth team of Vic Seixas and Sam Giammalva, 1-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4 today to retain the Davis Cup, symbol of world tennis supremacy.

The triumph in doubles while a crowd of 18,000 applauded in hot, sunny weather gave Australia an unbeatable 3-0 lead in the best-of-five series and made Friday's final two singles matches meaningless.

Immediately after the crushing defeat, U. S. team Captain Billy Talbot announced that he probably will give up that post. He said his retirement would be for "business" reasons, but admitted that America's future cup hopes are "not too rosy."

Fight Results

MILAN, Italy—Dulio Loi, 135, Italy, outpointed Jose Hernandez, 134½, Spain (15, retained European lightweight title).

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Willie Pastrano, 189½, Miami Beach, Fla., outpointed Charley Norkus, 194, Port Chester, N. Y. (10).

Miami U. of Ohio, to Play SIU Here Friday, Formerly Coached by Blue Foster

Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, which will send its basketball team here Friday night to meet Southern Illinois University in Davenport gymnasium, is the university where Blue Foster formerly coached.

Foster, one of the most successful football coaches in the history of southern Illinois when he was head mentor of the Harrisburg Bull Dogs, mentioned this fact in a note to Curtis Small of The Daily Register.

"This is the place where I was head basketball and baseball coach for seven years prior to going into the real estate business in Cincinnati," he wrote. "It is a wonderful university and I hope you can put out the welcome mat for them."

Poster, after leaving Harrisburg with an enviable record, made an equally good record in sports at Newport (Ky.) high school before going to Miami University as coach.

This year's team is excellent and

SIU Rally Edges Millikin, 90-85

FLORA, Ill. — Southern Illinois staged a late rally Wednesday night to edge a hot shooting Millikin quintet, 90-85.

The teams battled on even terms most of the game, despite Millikin's blistering 480 shooting percentage. Southern held a 46-44 halftime margin, fell behind in the second half and then surged ahead to stay in the closing minutes.

Millikin guard Mickey Sprinkle grabbed scoring honors with 22 points, and center Larry Whitlock paced Southern with 20.

Southern played one of its better games of the season, although not hitting as high a percentage as Millikin, shot a good 460 with 38 field goals in 81 attempts.

"Ichy" Jones, freshman from Herrin, had a hot night with six baskets on nine tries, all from the outside.

Pushing Whitlock for SIU scoring honors were Seymour Bryson with 18 points and Warren Talley's 16.

SIU meets Miami of Ohio at Davenport gymnasium, Harrisburg, Friday night.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Ira Stille, Harrisburg athletic official, came through last week's "You Pick 'em" with colors flying. Ira picked every game correctly.

On the "game of the week," Herrin at Centralla, Stille picked Herrin to win by the close score of 68-65 which was just about like all other contestants. About half picked Herrin and of course that means half picked Centralla, but all except one predicted a close game.

Billy Hopkins, who tied for second place honors with Carroll Schwartz, each picking nine correctly and missing only one, predicted an 11-point spread win for Herrin by a score of 72-61. Even this wasn't close to the one-sided 78-52 win by Herrin.

Hopkins and Schwartz both missed on the Paducah at Marion game, selecting Marion to take the decision.

The Paducah-Marion contest was the one that had Stille guessing too as he penned a note with his selections that he knew very little about the Kentucky school, but decided to go along with them in his selections.

Teams are either taking a rest during the holidays or participating in tournaments this week so we will skip a "You Pick 'em" until regularly scheduled games are on tap again.

Word from Tulane university, where Jack Nolen and Alfred Gungel, former Shawneetown high school cage stars are enrolled as freshmen is that both boys are doing okay with the yearling basketball squad and that Nolen is playing first string.

Standings of the Greater Egyptian conference:

Equality	3	3	.500
Cave-in-Rock	3	3	.500
Shawneetown	0	5	.000
Pope Co.	0	5	.000

Statistics of GEC play to date shows Ridgway to be the loop's highest scorer with a total of 427 points in six games for an average of about 71 points per game.

Schedule of Baptist Hour Over WEBQ

The following is the schedule for the Baptist Hour Association over radio station WEBQ daily from 7 to 8 a. m. with the church and minister in charge.

(Where churches are mentioned without a preacher, the pastor has resigned and another has not been selected.)

For any question about this list call the Rev. Ernest Ammon, Carrier Mills 3092.

Dec. 28. Dr. H. L. Waters and the Seminary Extension.
Dec. 29. Rev. Pearl Orr.
Dec. 30. Bankston Fork Baptist and Pastor Roy Reynolds.
Dec. 31. Ozark Baptist and Pastor Freddie Neible.

Geometrical
Designs of Mohammedan prayer rugs have patterns of geometrical design only, since the Koran forbids the reproduction of the image or likeness of any living thing.

Lots of Trees
About 5,000,000 trees are harvested each year to provide the wood needed for maintenance of the U. S. communications lines and power lines.

Day of the Outlaw

By Lee Wells

XXXVI
Dan led her back to the store, his face hard and bleak. He turned Paula over to Ernine and ran back to the saloon, calling Phil and Gene to the door.

He explained what had happened. Hiatt shook his head and Phil looked grave.

"He'll hole up at the station where every gun and round of ammunition has been stored."

"We've got to get him, Phil. He's a mad dog." Dan considered the station, eyes distant and thoughtful. "Phil, you and Gene circle the store and work toward the station from the Spade Road."

They argued but Dan beat them down. Dan hitched at his belt and started down the street toward the station.

There was no sign of life, but Dan knew that Pace must be watching him. Over the expanse of snow, saw Phil and Hiatt working their way to the road. Dan lifted the gun, slammed a bullet through one of the windows. He instantly threw himself to one side. A double flash of fire answered him and the bullets cut the air where he had just stood. At that moment, Phil's gun boomed and Dan heard the tinkle of glass. He came up on the balls of his feet and realized that someone rushed down on him from the right. He jerked with surprise when he saw Vivian running toward him.

"Get back!" he yelled and made frantic signals to her. She halted, not three yards from him.

Her eyes softened and deepened as she looked at him. "I worried about you, Dan. I . . . don't want you hurt."

It struck him like a physical blow that this woman was in love with him.

Dan lifted himself to call toward the station.

"Pace! Pace, listen to me! There's a woman here. Hold your fire until she can get away."

The slender killer replied instantly. Dan's voice locating his target for him. The slugs plowed into the non-resisting snow, the first one close, whipping by Dan's shoulder, the other two going a little higher. Dan had thrown himself flat and now he turned to look at Vivian. She lay crouched in the snow, curled, head down. Her head rolled sideways as he grabbed her shoulder and Dan turned her over, holding his breath. That first slug had come close to him had caught Vivian just at the base of the throat and ranged downward. She was dead.

Dan came to his feet and charged the station in a crouching run, face contorted, eyes ablaze. He reached the door and his shoulder slammed the portal back. He instantly threw himself down and to one side.

He saw Pace at one of the far windows. The man whirled and threw flame at Dan. Through the haze of smoke Dan saw the pale eyes alight with a strange, mad glee, the moist lips unnaturally red, twisted in a devil's smile.

Something struck Dan with the force of a battering ram and he seemed no longer to have a side.

Everything was in a strange, detached slow motion. He felt his hand lift the gun, saw the muzzle come up. He saw the long spit of red flame lance from the barrel, lance again. He saw Pace come up on his toes, saw the man's gun belch flame toward the ceiling. Then Pace slowly pivoted on the balls of his feet, seemed to be reaching high for something. As a swirling darkness rushed over Dan, he saw Pace pitch forward.

Dan opened his eyes and stared about him in disbelief. He was back in the Preston bedroom.

Doc Langer appeared and fussed over Dan while Paula and Phil stood fearfully watching.

"How did I get here?"

"Gene and I brought you," Phil answered. "Paula's been nursing you."

"But it's only been a little while."

"Five days a little while?" Doc Langer asked, straightening. "It was touch and go with you, cowboy. Paula, give him the news and then both of you sleep the rest of the day."

Phil went out of the room with the doctor, Paula pulled a chair up beside the bed, sat down and took Dan's hand.

Pace was dead, she told him, and so was Juarez, though Dan knew that. Denver, Vause and Egan were under heavy guard awaiting the sheriff who would come down from the county seat now that the roads were passable. Shorty Ratner had died just yesterday.

Gene Hiatt also waited for the sheriff to turn over the stolen money, and everyone in town would do all they could to help the young man become a good citizen again. Gene might serve a short term but he had a home here once he returned.

Crane was recovering nicely and Phil came back in the room then and looked gravely at Dan.

"Vivian McLearn is buried, Dan . . . one more cruel and useless killing added to all the rest. Ava Rikes has come to her senses and she runs the Wyoming."

"What about Blaise?"

Phil made a slight gesture. "I don't know, Dan. The whole town knows what he planned to do. I figure he'll sell Star before very long. There's no one he can face any more." He looked at his daughter and his face softened.

"But you've both had enough talk. I want you back on your feet, Dan, as soon as you can make it. The sooner you start learning the lumber business, the sooner I can figure on taking it easy."

"Lumber business!" Dan's eyes widened. Phil laughed.

"Sure, lumber business. Think my future son-in-law would do anything else?"
